4. TOOLS AND PRINCIPLES APPLIED TO THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA

In relation to the purposes referred to herein, processing is carried out by means of manual, IT, and electronic tools, applying principles strictly related to the aforementioned purposes and, in any case, in such a way as to guarantee the security and confidentiality of the data.

5. RIGHTS OF THE DATA SUBJECT

All the rights mentioned below can be exercised using the contact details of the Data Controller given at the beginning of the document, in paragraph 1

- Right to request access to your personal data from the Data Controller
- Right to request the rectification / deletion / restriction of your personal data from the Data Controller
- Right to request opposition to the processing of your personal data from the Data Controller
- Right to receive a complete list of data processors
- Right to receive your personal data stored in a structured, commonly used, and readable format
- Right to file a complaint with a supervisory authority such as the Italian Data Protection Authority using the contact details given at the following link <https://www.garanteprivacy.it/home/footer/contatti>

There is no automated decision-making process, including profiling as referred to in article 22, paragraphs 1 and 4 of Regulation (EU) no. 2016/679 governing Data Protection

6. TRANSFER OF DATA ABROAD

Your Personal Data will normally be processed within the European Union and stored on servers located within the European Union. It is possible that said data may be processed or stored in countries outside the European Union, only if an adequate level of protection is guaranteed. This level shall be deemed adequate where the European Commission has issued an adequacy decision regarding the recipient country, or where adequate contractual or statutory safeguards, including standard data protection clauses, are provided by the foreign data controllers and data processors involved (art. 46, paragraph 2, letters c) and d) of Regulation (EU) no. 2016/679 governing Data Protection). This is only with due respect for confidentiality and the purposes described herein. These guarantees are available for consultation at MIXTRON's headquarters in Reggio Emilia.
